This policy is applicable to all currently enrolled students at Bucknell.

Definitions:

"Minor" means a secondary field of study that a student may declare as part of their undergraduate degree

Policy:

A departmental Minor consists of four, five or six courses in a department. An interdepartmental Minor consists of five courses, with none of the five being in the student's major department and no more than three of the five being in a single department. By faculty action, all Minors are available to all students in the University.

The following stipulations pertain to a Minor:

- A. Courses may not be double-counted in majors and Minors; however, corequisite or major-related courses outside the student's major department may be counted toward a Minor.
- B. Courses that count toward a Minor also may satisfy College of Arts & Sciences Core Curriculum (CASCC) requirements, except for the major.
- C. Students in one degree program (e.g., bachelor of arts) may complete a Minor in a department offering a different degree (e.g., bachelor of science).
- D. The Minor in biomedical engineering is administered by the Dean's Office of the College of Engineering. Questions regarding this Minor should be addressed to that office.

Declaring a Minor

- A. Effective Fall 2022, students may declare a Minor in their 4th semester assuming they have satisfied the following requirements:
 - 1. Have declared and been approved for a major
 - 2. Have earned at least 12 cumulative Bucknell credits
- B. Department chair, program director or Minor coordinator approval will only be required if a student deviates from the published Minor course requirements, which can be granted using the adjustment request form on a student's Academic Progress Report (APR)*.
- C. The Minor will be displayed on the APR and be subject to published policies related to course double-counting.

- D. Should a student fail to complete Minor requirements or secure proper approval for course substitutions, the Minor will be automatically removed from the student's record prior to degree conferral.

*Please note that it is not possible to substitute courses for those on the approved lists of requirements. Students who have not elected the specific Minor requirements may not propose waivers or modifications unless approved by the department chair and the academic associate dean.
